

Testimonial – Superior Meats

My experience with the Cascades antibacterial hand towel has confirmed to me that it provides a lasting antibacterial protection, a benefit unmatched by our liquid hand sanitizer which was purchased from a reputable company and recommended as a quality product.

As a protein processor specializing in raw meats, packaging and a deli, Superior Meats will leave no stone unturned to ensure that our products are safe. When my sales representative from one of our companies mentioned to me that the Cascades antibacterial towel might be something that I should look at, I ordered a box and said that I would take a look at it. Understandably, hand washing and drying with paper towels are part of the Hazard Analysis Critical Control Points (HACCP) program and because the Cascades's green antibacterial towel has received a favorable letter of opinion by Health Canada, I felt confident that it would be effective in aiding to reduce hand-transferred bacteria.

To satisfy my own curiosity of how the antibacterial towels would perform compared to our hand sanitizer we did extensive tests and the results were overwhelmingly confirmed. The Cascades antibacterial hand towels lasting performance claim was definitely confirmed in my opinion. I feel that the Cascades antibacterial hand towels out performed our quality hand sanitizer by 100%, both in initial use and lasting performance.

Superior Meats is proud to show its employees and customers that it has gone the added step of aiding in the reduction on hand-transferred bacteria by adding the Cascades Antibacterial hand towel to its hand drying program. Given the irrefutable antibacterial property of the Cascades green hand towel, we have proceeded with having it installed in all of our towel dispensers at our two locations.
